Welcome.

This site is in the process of being updated.

The information and products that you find here have all been tried and tested by us and our clients over many years. Our aim is to research and verify leading edge therapies that 'really' do work for everyone (but to be politically correct we should say 'most people'). To this end we are in regular contact with health professionals around the world, pooling information and ensuring that the results we achieve are verified by others.

Our therapies range from therapeutic essential oils that were widely used thousands of years ago to cutting edge space age technologies that bring biology up to date with new understanding about the energetic body - quantum physics (and especially quantum mechanics) appears to be bringing science back into the spiritual world. We are leaders in the field of Scenar technology.

Our quest for a better understanding of 'health' has led us on a journey that is both exciting and exhilarating. Hopefully the information on this site may help you reach your destination.

Good health

Brief introduction to Energy Medicine with Melvyn Cann.

From his contact with aboriginal tribes to a highly tuned understanding of traditional Chinese medicine and acupuncture, Melvyn has a wealth of knowledge to share with us. He is also a distinguished composer, a flamboyant violinist and artist, a poet who possesses a keen spiritual intent to further healing and bring people together. Melvyn will be giving us some powerful insights into the nature of healing - to be published in video on this site soon.
